Danger in Delay

Kidney Diseases Are Too Dangerous for Norway-People to Neglect.

The great danger of kidney troubles is that they get a firm hold before the sufferer recognizes them. Health is gradually undermined. Backache, headache, nervousness, lameness, soreness, lumbago, urinary troubles, dropsy, diabetes and Bright's disease follow in merciless succession. Don't neglect your kidneys. Cure the kidneys with the certain and safe remedy, Doan's Kidney Pills, which has cured people right here in Norway.

M. M. Kilgore, living on Danforth St., Norway, Me., says: "I do not think there is a kidney remedy equal to Doan's Kidney Pills. I suffered from backache and pains through my loins for some time. My kidneys were in a very much disordered condition and the secretions acted in an unnatural manner. At times my back would be so lame and sore that I could scarcely stand on my feet. I did not rest well at night and felt generally miserable. At last I was advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills and procured them from Stone's drug store. His remedy cured me of the trouble and I have felt well in every way since. I keep Doan's Kidney Pills in the house at all times and recommend them whenever I hear of anyone suffering from kidney trouble."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cts. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York sole agents for the United States.

Do You Get Up With a Lame Back?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everyone knows of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, because of its remarkable health restoring properties. Swamp-Root fails almost every wish in overcoming rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night.

Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble, it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been thoroughly tested in private practice, and has proved so successful that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper, who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root, and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble.

When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles are sold by all druggists. Don't make any mistake but remember the name—Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Green Old Age.
"Say, ma!"
"Don't call me 'ma.' Say 'mother.' What is it?"
"What's a green old age?"
"When a man who is bald and wrinkles and tottering with age, a young woman who wouldn't look at him a second time if he didn't have a lot of money," the lady replied, casting a steady glance at her husband, who was busy reading the stock quotations, "it may be said that he has lived to a green old age." [Bangor News.]

Missouri has passed a law whereby the smoking of cigarettes in public places by persons under eighteen years of age is prohibited. Missouri lads who aspire to be "tough" will therefore be obliged to do most of their cigarette smoking out back of the barn.

Want to be strong?
Eat more Quaker Oats. Eat it for breakfast every day. This advice is coming from all sides as a result of recent experiments on foods to determine which are the best for strength and endurance. It has been proved that eaters of Quaker Oats and such cereals are far superior in strength and endurance to those who rely upon the usual diet of heavy, greasy foods.

When all is said and done on the cereal food question, the fact remains that for economy and for results in health and strength, Quaker Oats stands first of all. It is the most popular food in the world among the foods sold in packages.

The town is building a house for the storing of road machines, etc., on the lot recently purchased at the rear of the creamery.

Mrs. W. L. Farrar entertained a party of ladies from the Good Cheer society at her home on High street, last Wednesday.
The occasion was arranged to give a surprise party to Mrs. J. S. Burbank.
A pleasant time was enjoyed and refreshments served.

Steel shelving and filing cases have been installed in the vault of the register of deeds' office at the Oxford county court house and the work will soon be completed in the vault of the probate court room and of the clerk of courts.
These shelving and filing cases will also be placed in the new law library.

There was a special meeting of the Universalist parish Monday evening, and it was voted to continue services throughout June and July, the pulpit being occupied by substitutes. During the month of August there will be no services. It is expected that by the first of September there will be a regular pastor.

BETHEL.

L. Smith, son of George Smith, sells fruit here every week.

Wm. Morse of Bryant's Pond is in this place each week with meat and bread for sale.

Lillian Buck is teaching in town instead of Gladys Buck as previously reported.

Ellis Annas of Bethel Hill has been hauling lumber that he bought of Orlando Buck which is to repair his stable with.

Millie Oliver was home from her school on Swan Hill over Sunday. Maud Russell was at home also from her school at West Bethel.

Mrs. E. A. Packard came down from the village Monday morning, with her daughter Maud, who takes charge of the school here the last few weeks.

Mrs. Mitchell, who has been with her sister, Mrs. Alphonso Bean, for some time, has returned to Portland, where her invalid husband went a short time ago.

Eva Farwell, much to the regret of pupils and parents, is unable to finish her school here. She was doing much good and working hard for the benefit of the school, when she was taken suddenly ill.

Mrs. Cora Sherwood nee Farwell, wife of Rev. Ralph A. Sherwood of Keene,

Hill called at G. N. Sanborn's, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Tyler entertained guests on Sunday from Bolster's Mills and Mason.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Kendall and family from Newry visited relatives in the place recently.

Ruby Perkins from Bethel village was the guest of Gwendolyn Stearns the latter part of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Whitman and infant daughter and Dolly Gibbs of Boston and O. F. Whitman of Lewiston arrived in town, Sunday, for a few days' visit with relatives here.

A sane and safe Fourth of July is assured this year; it falls on Sunday. But how about the day after?

Ask him about it,
then do as he says

Ayer's

As we now make our new Hair Vigor it does not have the slightest effect upon the color of the hair. You may use it freely and for any length of time without fear of changing the color. Stops falling hair. Cures dandruff.

SHERIFF'S SALE.
County of Oxford, June 17, 1909.
Taken on this 17th day of June A. D. 1909, on an execution dated June 8th, A. D. 1909, issued on a judgment rendered by the Supreme Judicial Court, for Oxford County, at the term thereof begun and held on the second Tuesday of May, A. D. 1909, to wit: the 19th day of May, A. D. 1909, in favor of Ella M. Harriman of Fryeburg, in said county, versus Rufus E.
Gould of Fryeburg, in said county, for the sum of $100.00 and costs, the said Rufus E. Gould has failed to satisfy the said judgment and costs, and will be sold at public auction, at the office of Seth W. Flint in Fryeburg, in said Oxford County, to the highest bidder on the 23rd day of July, A. D. 1909, at nine o'clock, all the right title and interest which the said Rufus E. Gould had in and to the same on the 20th day of February, A. D. 1909, at nine o'clock and thirty minutes in the forenoon, the time when the same was attached on the writ in the same suit, to wit: being all the interest at law of the late Moses Gould in a certain parcel of land lying and being in the town of Said Oxford County and on the Davis road, near the junction of the Bushrow road and was the homestead of said Moses Gould and containing seven acres more or less, with the buildings thereon including the orchard and the house, embracing also what is called the mountain lot, situated on the westerly side of the so-called Bushrow road, near the Trumbull farm, a strip of land twelve rods wide, running from said road to Granger pond, containing thirteen acres more or less, and lying southerly side of land of George W. Gray.

A Diverging Program.

The Grange committee on entertainment at last meeting furnished a diverting program. There were a series of acting charades representing names of popular books, by Harold Pike and Walter Newcomb; readings by Harold Pike, Carl Heath, Edith Millett, C. S. Hamlin and Mrs. Lizzie Pike; an instructive tableau, "Before and after marriage;" and a comic medley by a volunteer, independent of the farm home to any other.
This part of the program was followed by a tasty treat in which ice cream was the principal component.

Then ensued a discussion of the question, "Are we educating our boys and girls away from the farm?" The youngest members were appointed to open the debate and Carl Hamlin, Harold Pike, Edith Millett and Mary Hamlin for the first time aired their eloquence in arguing the pros and cons of the subject so interesting to each of them.

Miss Millett said she believes the Grange has an influence to cause the boys and girls to prefer the life and labors of the farm home to any other.

Harold Pike made quite an extended speech showing an intelligent appreciation of the advantages of modern improved farm implements and gave evidence of much understanding of the problems besetting the farmer of the present day.

Carl and Mary Hamlin manifested their interest in the subject and gave evidence of thoughtful study of the question as it pertains to the farmer's boys and girls.
Brothers Saunders, C. S. Hamlin, Worthy Overseer Rice, Lecturer Mc-Intire and Sisters Saunders, Riggs, Rice and others expressed special interest in the theme of the discussion. The question was continued for further consideration at next meeting.

Mr. Smith of North Turner is a guest of the family of his son, Horace Smith.

Prof. Monroe of Norway was a guest of Mrs. Augusta Monroe on Saturday and Sunday.

Alice Monroe, teacher in one of the Rumford public schools, is at her home for the summer.

Miss Peterson of Portland is occupying her beautiful cottage erected last year on the heights south of Keoka lake with friends.

Alice Hamlin, preceptress of Kent's Hill seminary and Woman's college, came home Saturday for the summer vacation.

Comrade John Atherton has had a trying attack of the grippe, but is now convalescent. His youngest daughter, Mandie, who is a teacher in Boston, is attending her father during his illness and will remain at home until autumn.

Alice and Richard Murphy of Green Bay, Wis., are summer guests of their aunt, Mrs. Florence Noble, and family and of other near relatives. Young Mr.
Murphy is to enter Bridgton Academy at the next term for an extended course of study.

A valuable horse belonging to John Grover was mysteriously shot last week and there is much earnest speculation as to the identity of the individual who did the deed. It is believed to have been entirely accidental, but the mystery is as dense as ever.

while driving home from South Paris last week and the horse reared and kicked in a fearful manner. He was taken from the wagon and led to a place of safety. The horse is more than 25 years old.

Strawberries.

There are three common methods of growing strawberries—in hills, in narrow matted rows or in wide matted rows. Arrange the first strong runners by hand, spacing them properly and covering each one in place with a little soil or a small stone. Then, when each row is full, cut off the additional runners that may grow. Keep the ground between the rows free of weeds and mulch the rows with a layer of straw.
The finished row should not be wider than 15 or 18 inches.

"A necklace of diamonds has been stolen from me!" said Mrs. Comfox.
"Aren't you going to notify the police?"
"I don't know what to do. It does seem rather classy to be robbed of jewelry, and yet I hate to have people think that I'd ever miss a little thing like a necklace."—Washington Star.

Icebergs, hundreds of them, are still reported on the Newfoundland coast, indicating an early and late spring in the Arctic, where these masses of ice sealed water come. Newfoundland is getting a reputation as the continental refrigerator, for it is reasonable to suppose that the presence of such large masses of ice has some influence on the climate.

How the Days of the Week Received Their Names

Formerly the days of the week were numbered one, two, three, four, five and six, beginning with the Sabbath. Even now the custom still prevails among certain modern Greeks, the Slavs and the Finns. Many old-fashioned and orthodox Quakers, particularly in the north of England, still hold to the custom, which was the common one in the fourth of the apostles and down to the fourteenth century as well as usual among the Jews and the Arabs. The orthodox Quakers use the numerical system in preference to the ordinary on the ground that the gods and goddesses, from whom the names were taken, were not of the highest respectability in point of morals.

The week was originally only a convenient quarter of the lunar month; hence it began on Monday or moon first and Sunday the seventh day of the Norse Tiw, who corresponded to Mars, the god of war, a most disreputable person in the eyes of the Quakers. Thursday was Thor's day, Thor being a god warrior who was morally of better far than he ought to be. Wednesday, again, was Woden's day, Woden being the god of battle rage. The Romans called this day Mercury's, Friday was supposed to be the luckiest day of the week—for women. It was called after the Norse Frigg, the goddess of love, and is the best day for weddings. For the pagan Romans it was also the day of Venus, though the Christian Romans called it the day of St. John because Christ had been crucified on that day. Saturday was called after Saturn, and Sunday was known to the Christians as resurrection or sun day.—[Boston Journal.

Trifles that Count.

To skim grease from soup in a hurry use square sheets of clean tissue paper on the surface of the soup. Lay them on one at a time, lift off lightly and all the fat comes off.
Toing that has not boiled long enough can be put back on the fire after it has been mixed in the white of egg, provided an asbestos mat is used beneath.
Don't wear a winter suit that must do duty another season too late in the spring. It is more economical to buy a cheap lightweight suit rather than risk the dust and general shabbiness of wearing a good cloth one on hot days.
A box of clean sand kept in the kitchen will be found excellent for hasty cleaning of blackened pots, pans and rusty knives.
When the handles have pulled off the lids of pots or pans cut a spoon in half and fasten it to the lid with a screw and nut.
Glass shelves and towel rods in a bathroom save the time and temper of the cleaner. The chief objection to these fixtures is the cost. If one watches the marked down sales they can often be picked up at half price.
A delightful fragrance that is not oppressive can be given a sickroom by putting a little cologne in a saniter and setting fire to it.
Poultry.

The work in poultry management at the Maine Experiment Station has been of great value to poultrymen, especially those located in the colder portions of the United States. Systematic work with Plymouth Rock hens was begun more than ten years ago with a view to an increase in the yield of eggs, and to developing the most satisfactory methods of hatching, rearing, feeding, etc.
An interesting feature of the work is the use of trap nests. A hen with a number is placed on the leg of each hen. The nest boxes are constructed so that the hen as she goes in springs a trap which closes a door after her, and she remains a prisoner until released by an attendant. In this way an exact record of the egg laying of each hen is secured, and the experimenter is able to select the best for breeding purposes.
The U. S. Department of Agriculture has issued for free distribution a Farmers' Bulletin decribing the Methods of Poultry Management at the Maine Station. It describes in detail the construction of the buildings used, especially those known as "curtain front" houses; the methods of feeding; the use of disinfectants, etc. It contains many ideas and suggestions that will prove helpful to the practical poultry raiser.

The Chinese Cook Knew Which Eggs Should Be Discarded.

"Chinese need to be taught to be more self-reliant," said the woman who employs a Chinese cook. Yesterday, I ordered a pudding for dinner, stopping a minute to see if he followed my instructions, for I had taught him to make this particular pudding. He had seen me smell the eggs before putting them into a bowl, and he began by putting the first egg to his nose. He seemed on the right road so I left the kitchen for a minute.
"Returning, I discovered that he had used five eggs instead of three as I had taught him. Telling him to task for not following my instructions, he answered: 'Yes; three here (pointing to the bowl), two here (indicating where he had thrown the others). Same as you.'
It dawned on me that when I had taught him to make the pudding I had found the second and third eggs that I had broken to be bad and had thrown both away. He had simply done what he had seen me do—after smelling the second and third egg he had thrown them away."—[New York Sun.

A Keen Observer

Ethel, aged three, had been to visit her cousins, two fun loving and romping boys. She had climbed upon her father's knee and was telling him of her visit. "Papa, every night John and George say their prayers, they ask God to make the good boys," said she.
"That is nice," said papa.
Then, thinking soberly for a few minutes, she said, "He ain't done it yet."—Delineator.

Consumption is caused by the Sleeping Out-Of-Doors.

In this weather the practice of sleeping out of doors carries with it no healthful, but even the feeblest constitution, and any man or woman who can secure a sleeping place protected from rain and screened from mosquitoes, will find the practice not only, invigorating, but healthful, but conducive to more pleasant sleep than is possible within enclosing walls.

The value of sleep in the open air has been proved most notable in the treatment of tuberculosis, but that treatment has shown its efficacy in nervous diseases and in all cases which call for building up healthier tissues.

Undoubtedly the time is coming in this country when a large portion of those who can afford it will have sleeping quarters arranged on balconies, under porches, etc., in such fashion as to allow sleeping out of doors.

Architects say that the demand for such accommodations is markedly increasing. It is simply another result of the popular movement for better health, as a matter of common sense.

Hard and Soft.

"What," asked the teacher, "does anthracite mean?"
"That's a kind of coal, what we call hard coal. So anthracite must mean 'hard.' Now, can you tell me what 'bituminous' means?"
"That's coal, too," Willie replied.
"But it isn't the same kind of coal that anthracite is, is it? Bituminous coal is what we commonly refer to as soft coal. Now, Willie, let us see if you can form a sentence containing the words anthracite and bituminous."
Willie thought the matter over for a minute and then said:
"Forsooth! This morning before pa started downtown ma wanted $5 for our groceries and things, and she tried to get it by saying bituminous words, but pa gave her an anthracite look, and when he disappeared around the corner she was weeping bituminously."

Norman McLeod Escapes From Jail

Norman McLeod, who at the last term of Supreme court was sentenced to serve six months in Paris jail, escaped Thursday afternoon.

McLeod was at work on the lawn in front of the jail with no one watching him. At a little after three o'clock he was missed and it is thought that he boarded the train for Berlin which passed at 3 o'clock.

McLeod was not garbed in the prison clothes, as there was no suit large enough to fit his corpulent form.

Ingersoll's Tribute to Love.

Love is the only bow on life's dark cloud. It is the morning and evening star. It shines on the babe and sheds its radiance on the quivering many ideas of the mother of art; inspirer of poet, patriot and philosopher. It is the air and light of every heart; builder of every home; kinder of every fire on the hearth; it was the first dress of immortality. It fills the world with melody, for music is the voice of love. Love is the magician, the enchanter that changes worthless things to joy, and makes rich royal queens and kings of common clay. It is the perfume of that wonderful flower, the heart, and without that sacred passion, that divine swoon, we are less than beasts; but with it—earth is heaven and we are gods.—Robert G. Ingersoll.

The great thing in life is not in realizing a purpose, but in fighting for it. If we feel the possibilities of a great world, let us do it. It is our duty to consecrate ourselves to it. Failure in a great work is nobler than success in a petty one that is beneath our maximum of possibility. It is our duty to do our duty bravely and rest in the sweet comfort of this fact alone.—[Circle Magazine.

Oxford Co. Patriotic Association.

The second meeting of Oxford Co. Patriotic Ass., was held at Deaborn's Grove, Bryant's Pond, June 17, the anniversary of the battle of Bunker Hill. It was an ideal day and the enthusiasm exceeded that of the meeting of last year.

This is an organization that is destined to grow, for its object is to foster a greater love of country, respect for our flag, and to encourage a deeper sense of the necessity of individual righteousness.

The meeting was called to order by Pres. O. A. Maxim of Paris, prayer by Rev. Mr. Banghart of Bethel. Business occupied the time till noon, when dinner was served in the grange hall. At 1:30 p. m. came one of the old time camp fires, so dear to the hearts of "Lincoln's boys."

The Color Bearers, Mrs. Mary Records, Norway; Mrs. Addie Lovejoy, Norway; Miss E. E. Burdham, Bethel; Lena Stenfield, Rumford; escorted to the platform, Mrs. Sarah Putnam, Dixfield, National Inspector W. R. C.; Maud Merrick, Waterville, Dept. Pres. W. R. C.; Mrs. Mary Bartlett, Bethel, Dept. Senior Vice Pres. W. R. C.; Mrs. Burbank and Mrs. Martin of South Paris.

Mrs. Putnam gave the address of welcome. A solo by Comrade Gilman Whitman of Bryant's Pond entitled "Sleeping beneath the Old Flag," was full of pathos and brought tears to many eyes.

Remarks ringing with the spirit of '76 and '61 were made by Rev. Mr. Little, Rev. Mr. Banghart, Hon. E. C. Park, Mr. Springer, Miss Merrick, Mrs. Bartlett, Mr. Hutchinson, Mr. Wyman and others.

A solo by Mrs. Banghart, the story of Washington and Lincoln was great. "Rally Round the Flag" was sung by a chorus with a vim that made the woods ring. Bertha Lawrence of Locke's Mills gave a recitation entitled "The Old Grand Army Boys." This was one of the most pleasing features of the day.

Many new names were added to the membership list. It was voted to hold the next meeting June 17th, 1910, at South Paris. Adjourned by singing America. Benediction by Rev. Mr. Little.

List of officers:
Pres.—O. A. Maxim, Paris.
1st V. Pres.—Sarah Putnam, Dixfield.
2d V. Pres.—Capt. Buckman, Mechanic Falls.
Sec.—Clara Jordan, Norway.
Treas.—A. L. True, Bethel.
Press Com.—Annie C. Bailey, Norway.

Street Education.

The Youths' Companion for June 17th has the following item under "Current Topics": "Treaters: no placard or poster which pictorially represents the commission of crime may be publicly exhibited in the District of Columbia. The District authorities have recently promulgated an order to that effect. A similar order ought to be made and enforced in every community in the country."

Education comes through the eye as well as through other avenues and to allow on the bill boards of our town the pictorial representation of crime can have only a baleful effect upon the imagination and character of children and youth.

Would it not be a good move on part of our town officers to have an order passed similar to that in the District of Columbia?

The trustees of the University of Maine have decided to admit no students hereafter to that institution who does not sign an explicit agreement to take no part in hazing.
